Joel Storrow said the initial low bid was from L-J, Inc. for $542,156.00. He said the original cost estimate for the project construction was $382,600.00. Mr. Storrow said we are proposing the following changes to the project: (1) relocating the pump station on the Macon County property adjacent to the parking area for the athletic fields which reduced the amount of twelve inch gravity sewer by 1,850 lineal feet, (2) reduction in the number of manholes required and (3) the elimination of paving repairs required. He said the estimated new total construction cost is $462,306.00. Mr. Storrow said the funding for the project is from the following sources: (1) North Carolina Rural Economic Development Center - $400,000.00, (2) Macon County School Board - $113,322.00, (3) Macon County - $10,000.00, (4) Owens (Sanders Property) - $10,750.00 and (5) Mark Berry - $10,750.00. He said we have provided a breakdown of the anticipated future allocation for tap fees and availability fees as a result of easement negotiations. He said the following persons would receive a waiver of tap and availability fees: (1) Wells Grove Baptist Church - $1,980.00, (2) Vanderwoude - $1,980.00, (3) Van Hook - $1,980.00 and (4) Gary Owens (Sanders property) - $21,500.00. He said also the school would be getting one free sewer tap and waiver of availability fees. Alderman Williamson said I don't like giving Gary Owens that much in free taps and availability fees. Alderman Roper said I think like Alderman Williamson does. Mayor Collins said can we condemn the property? Mr. Storrow said the Sanders easement is the longest at around 2,600 feet. He said there will be no stub out at Dowdle Mountain since this part is not eligible for funding. He said Mark Berry would then be receiving nothing for his money. He said there has been no engineering done yet. Mr. Storrow said we may need to take Mark Berry's money off the table. Alderman Curtis said I would like to award the bid and negotiate later about the easements. Motion was made by Curtis, seconded by Roper to award the revised bid to L-J, Inc. in the amount of $462,306.00.
